COUNCIL COMMITTEES ARE NAMED; CITY PAY IS SET

Can Protest Purgation Board Letter

The Callaway County Registration and Purgation Board will be in session thru Saturday from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. in the Circuit Court room of the court house. The board is meeting for the purpose of hearing protests from recipients of letters recently mailed by the board.

Last week the Purgation Board mailed 1000 letters in which they challenged the recipients for various reasons, such as non-voting, having moved, believed dead and changed of precinct. The letters were mailed for the purpose of establishing a proper registration list.

Those who wish to protest should appear before the board during the above hours. If anyone has received a letter through an error by the board they should call the matter to the board's attention.

Hazel WOW Camp Meets Last Night

Hazel WOW Camp 138 met in regular session last night in the WOW hall and elected new officers for the coming year.

The officers which are elected in December and installed in January are elected to one year terms. All of the retiring officers were re-elected last night with the exception of the auditors and the most of past consul commander. The post of past consul commander, as the term would indicate, is usually automatically filled by the retiring consul commander. However, Carman Parks, consul commander, was re-elected to serve another term last night and the selection of a new officer to serve in that position was in order. James Harmon was selected to that post with Cy Miller, Roy Province and John Morgan being designated as auditors.

Officers re-elected to their posts were: Consul Commander, Carman Parks; advisory lieutenant, Parvin Craig; banker, Joe Johnson; secretary, Thomas Swaggart; sentinel, Aulis Byars; scout, Henry West and sentry, C. C. Thomas.

At the conclusion of business a drawing was held for the $15 door prize. Henry Hutson's name was drawn. He was not present and the door prize will be $20 for the January meeting.

James Parker, Murray WOW field man, was the only visitor. After adjournment, refreshments were served.

Meeting Is Held Last Night To Complete Organization

A social meeting of the Murray City Council was held last night and salaries of city officials and employees were set. Mayor Holmes Ellis also made committee appointments.

A tentative budget was adopted by the council which will be used as a guide during the next year.

Mayor Ellis appointed Frank Lancaster and Ben Grogan to the planning commission which makes the final commission report complete. He is a member of the

Christmas Party Held By Lions

The Murray Lions Club held its annual Christmas party and Ladies Night at the Woman's Club House last night. The committee in charge of arrangements for the party was composed of C. C. Lowry, chairman, M. C. Ellis, George Hallinan, Joe Pat James and their wives. Members and their guests assembled upstairs and were served appetizers before adjourning to the dining room where a delightful buffet dinner was served.

The program began with an unannounced skit presented by six members of the Murray State Sock and Buskin Club, under the direction of Prof. Tom Gregory.

Toastmaster W. Z. Carter then took charge of the program, introducing Prof. Gregory who in turn introduced the members participating in the skit.

Dr. A. H. Kopperud made a few remarks about the serious side of Christmas and welcomed the guests. The response to his welcome was made by Mrs. Betty Lowry.

Mrs. Donna Tolley and triple trio from Murray High School presented a musical program consisting of three Christmas songs. The members of the choir later led the group in singing Christmas carols.

Pandemonium broke loose when not one, but two Santa's appeared on the scene. Order was finally restored and gifts were presented to the ladies from under a gallily decorated Christmas tree.

The delightful evening was brought to a close with a few humorous remarks from Toastmaster W. Z. Carter.

Recently at the Murray Hospital, seven Nurses' Aides were presented their certificates at a program given in their honor. This group had completed their training during the 1957 training class and five had received their training this fall.

This Nurse Aide program consists of four weeks of classroom and four weeks of clinical experience. The program has been planned and promoted by the American Hospital Association. The help the member hospitals overcome the nurse shortage. Before this program was started at the Murray Hospital Mrs. Lucille Ross R.N., instructor, attended a teacher training institute which was sponsored jointly by the Kentucky Hospital Association and the American Hospital Association. During the past two years thirty ladies from Marshall and Callaway counties have completed this course.

Mike Prepares For Paris Meeting

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer
WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower wedded today into preparations for next week's heads-of-state Paris parley that has been suddenly invigorated by his ability to attend.

The decision of the 67-year-old President to go despite a mild stroke 16 days ago sparked new hopes at home and abroad that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) summit conference will succeed in producing new unity and an answer

Assault On Speed Record Planned

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. — The Air Force today planned a new assault on the British-held world speed mark even though it failed to qualify a record-shattering performance Tuesday because of malfunction of a camera.

A swept-wing, F-101A Voodoo fighter-bomber, piloted by Maj. Adrian E. Drew of Bergstrom AFB, Tex., Tuesday flashed at nearly 1,200 miles an hour over a 10.1 mile straightaway course to break unofficially the 1,132-mile-an-hour world mark.

However, the failure of a camera which recorded part of the jet's smashing performance prevented official recognition of the flight by the National Aeronautic Association.

"Another flight will be made, possibly on Thursday or Friday — weather permitting—in an attempt to better the record," an Air Force spokesman said.

L. P. Twiss set the present world speed mark in March, 1956, in the Fairey Delta — a British-built research ship.

Missile Blasted In Perfect Flight

By ROBERT S. McNEILL
United Press Staff Correspondent
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — An Army Redstone, the third missile of the week, blasted off in a successful flight from this test center Tuesday night and a host of observers resumed their watch for launching of a potential satellite-carrying Jupiter and an ocean — spanner Aolax.

The modified version by the short-range Redstone soared into space in a spectacular night flight, trailing a huge ball of orange flame that was visible for about four minutes before it finally became one of the millions of pin-points of light dotting the cold, clear sky.

Followed Earlier Firings
The successful firing of the Redstone junior version of the intermediate range rocket, came after two smaller missiles were launched earlier in a week of accelerated activity after the failure of the Navy Vanguard to put a baby moon into orbit.

A ground-to-air Bomarc was launched Monday and an unidentified small missile, similar to the Bomarc, was sent speeding skyward trailing a slim streak of vapor Tuesday afternoon.

Army Missile To Be Bullet Shape

WASHINGTON — The Army revealed today that its earth satellite will be bullet-shaped, not spherical like the Vanguard satellite.

The disclosure came when the Army released the first two photographs of the satellite it hopes to launch next year.

The Army reported also that its satellite and the final stage rocket are designed to weigh a total of 29.7 pounds when in their orbit.

The two together will be 80 inches long and have a diameter of six inches. The payload instruments, exclusive of the shell case, will weigh 10 pounds.

The Army satellite appearing in the photographs looks like an artillery shell between two and three feet long. It has a nose cone with a blunt end and a shell casing which houses the satellite's scientific instruments.

Police Spot Couple

They were spotted in a Gray's drug store at the shopping center and police maintained a radio silence to avoid suspicion.

A hastily organized team of police and FBI men, some armed with shotguns, surrounded the entire shopping center and filtered through the crowds.

Fearful of attempting the arrest in the drug store because of Spill's past record and the fact the two were armed, the law officers sat in strategically-spotted cars and stood in nearby stores.

After half an hour, the two emerged and walked to their car.

Police descended upon the stunned couple so fast they had them searched and handcuffed before they could reach for their guns.

A known associate of the pair, Charles Marcum, was arrested by the FBI in Cincinnati Dec. 3, 12 hours after the $9,000 Louisville robbery.

A second companion, Jack Foutty, was arrested in West

Frigid Wave Hits Entire Midwest

By UNITED PRESS
The most frigid of the season's cold waves gripped the Midwest today and pointed icy spearheads toward New England and the southland.

Snow fell in Atlanta and northern Georgia, in Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee, northern Alabama and along the Appalachian slopes. North Carolina roads west of Asheville were covered with ice and the South was warned to get ready for cold weather. Cold wave warnings were issued for northwestern portions of Florida.

Weathermen in Chicago said the cold air mass spreading eastward might reach cold wave proportions over New England tonight.

Cold dry air passing over open water gave Lake Michigan a steamy appearance off Chicago. Strong winds sharpened the bite of the cold air over the plains states and Midwest.

Scooped World On Declaration

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — AP

Alexander Purdie scooped the world with America's greatest news story here 181 years ago.

Purdie, publisher of the Virginia Gazette, printed the complete Declaration of Independence on the front page of his July 28, 1776 edition, only three weeks after it was signed in Philadelphia — fast work in colonial days.

Sidebar stories told of the reaction to the Declaration in other colonies. In Trenton, N. J., the militia, the provincial congress and a "large concourse of inhabitants" greeted the news with "loud acclamations."

New York City's celebrants reacted with "loud huzzas and warm demonstrations of joy," according to the Gazette. And they went in for a bit of patriotic vandalism, ripping down the equestrian statue of King George III and melting down the pieces for bullets for the militia.

The Gazette, the colony's first newspaper, was established here Aug. 6, 1773, and has been published almost continuously every since as a family-owned-and-operated weekly.

Purdie learned printing in his native Scotland, worked for various publishers of the Gazette and became publisher himself in 1775.

He continued to run the paper through the hard-pressed days of the revolution until his death in 1779.

Colonial Williamsburg, Inc., is reconstructing the first Gazette printing office as part of the reconstruction of the 18th century colonial capital.

The reconstructed printing office will display colonial type which may have been used by the paper's first publisher and was uncovered on the site of the plant.

Wrong Person In Family Gets Money

By GAY PAULEY

United Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK — A talk with Millicent Trichter convinces me the wrong members of the family get the allowance.

Let the kids pay the parents.

None of the small fry financiers Miss Trichter knows has reached the Jean Paul Getty category. Yet, but the children are doing nicely. Thank you, through a national savings program, Miss Trichter said $350,000 grade school youngsters have school savings accounts. Their piggy banks are close to 177 million dollars or 36 million dollars more than last year.

Saving Comes Naturally

Some of their holdings are through regular allowances; some through their earnings at after-school or vacation jobs. Miss Trichter, assistant treasurer of the New York Boiler Savings Bank, has been banking 25 years, most of it spent with the school savings program. She is former head of the American Banking Association's Committee on School Savings.

"Saving comes naturally to children," said Miss Trichter. "They're great collectors, you know. Stamps, coins, and money."

Regularity of Saving

But what the banking industry wants, through the classroom plan, is to train children in the regularity of saving. The program, originated in the late 1880's, Miss Trichter said. Now, 627 banks handle grade schoolers' accounts; a few even will take kindergarten deposits.

Deposits range from five cents right on up, and Miss Trichter said that the average child, by the time he's ready for high school, has a balance of $165.

Seventy per cent of the junior bankers, that is his piggy bank. A parent cannot withdraw without the signature of the child.

The Channel Swim

By WILLIAM EWALD

United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — The channel swim...

Margaret Truman, NBC-TV property, has a singing date with CBS-TV's "Big Record" — the date is Dec. 18. "Let's Fact It" a show that was supposed to replace "Strike It Rich" on CBS-TV in January, now has been replaced itself — "Dottie" is the new pinch-hitter.

NBC-TV wants "Sally" to leave its alley — the network feels the low ratings of the Joan Caulfield show are hurting the ratings of Steve Allen who follows "Sally" on Sundays. Edward Bennett Williams, lawyer for such characters as Frank Costello, is scheduled for a Mike Wallace ABC-TV interview Dec. 14.

Joke: There are so many westerns on TV nowadays that viewers are beginning to get saddle-pated. Unjoke.

Guy Mitchell's ABC-TV sponsor has told the network he'd like a show that would be beamed more at a female audience. Phil Silvers took his flu and his wife to Orlando and Miami Beach, Fla., for a six-week vacation.

Amateur Hour Doomed

NBC-TV is juggling its schedule. A nighttime version of "Truth or Consequences" will move into the "Mark Saber" spot which will move to the "My Friend Flicka" spot which will move to the "Amateur Hour" spot which will move to oblivion.

Bob Taylor on TV

If ABC-TV moves its "American Bandstand" show to a Saturday night slot, it will shift "West Point Story" from its Tuesday slot into the vacant "Bandstand" spot. MGM has given permission to Robert Taylor to play his first dramatic role on TV.

Taylor reports for a "Thin Man" episode, "The Scene Stealer" next week.

And Lisa Kirk, taking note of all those out-burners on TV, wonders if sponsors really know their paths. Also unjoke.

NEW YORK — A home intercom using transistors — these tiny substitutes for vacuum tubes — consumes less electricity than a kitchen clock. Its producer claims.

Talk-A-Phone Co., Chicago, said its system brings intercommunication and radio to just about every cranny of the house, and yet uses no tubes, emits no heat and lasts almost indefinitely.

You can tell whether your car needs a change of oil, according to Miller Co., Marlborough, Mass. The company says it has developed a handy kit that tests the oil chemically. Certain reactions tell whether the oil is contaminated or not. Four Phials of chemical fluid come in the kit, called a "Detect-O-Tube."

The du Pont Co. has come out with what may be a milestone in the manufacture of model airplane propellers — one made of nylon.

Shatterproof, reliable, greater thrust and more than 10 times longer lasting. Those are some of the advantages claimed for the new propeller by the world's biggest chemical company.

Actual manufacture of the propellers is by Graham Bros. Co., John, Ind., from du Pont "Zylon" nylon resin.

Four instruments — vibraphone, marimba, xylophone, and orchestra bells — are combined in a new electric toy vibraphone made by Knickerbocker Plastic Co., Inc., North Hollywood, Calif.

The vibraphone is powered by two batteries and produces music of a quality approximating that of a full-sized instrument, according to the company.

Court game buffs who lack permanent court facilities can line up any suitable surface with a new self-spraying white marking paint. The aerosol product is harmless to grass and equally adaptable for use on cement or blacktop, says General Sportsmark Co., Ltd., of Bergenfield, N. J., the manufacturer.

A new game, with equipment somewhat akin to that used by jai alai players, uses a lightweight plastic scoop for throwing and catching a ball about the size of a softball.

Compared with jai alai equipment, the scoop is smaller, much lighter in weight and is handled instead of tied to the play-

Rebels Mark Up Eighth Straight Win

By JOE PAT THORNTON

The South Marshall Rebels marked up their eighth straight win last night by beating the Kirksey Eagles, 95-73. The final score is not, however, indicative of the hard fought game played.

South Marshall took the opening tip but found themselves on the bottom end of the 18-16 first period score.

Kirksey opened the second quarter with a field goal and held a slim lead until midway in the period. The Rebels surged from behind to hold a three point advantage, 42-39, as the home sounded ending the first half.

The third stanza began with two quiet field goals by the Eagles, giving them a one-point lead, 43-42. From this point on the game became a point-snatching contest with lead changing hands nine times in the period. Danny Edwards led the Eagles' third period attack scoring 13 of the team's 19 points. But Kirksey was unable to suppress the Rebels as they moved into a five-point third period, lead, 63-58.

In the fourth and final period, the South Marshall Rebels made a definite pull-away displaying the power that has carried them to victory after victory this season in their surprising rise to the top of the Fourth District standings. It was the eighth consecutive win for the Rebels, as they handed host Kirksey a 95-73, defeat.

The contest which was all tied-up on nine different occasions saw the Eagles connect on 24 field goals as their opponents scored on 33 baskets. The Eagles hit 25 of 44 free throws for 57 per cent and the Marshall County men hit 25 of 34 charity tosses for 74 per cent. Kirksey was charged with 22 personals and South Marshall was penalized with 26 personals and two technical fouls.

South Marshall was the victor in two preliminary clashes, an eighth grade game and the usual "B" team game.

Tommy Kearns New Big Man For Tarheels

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

Tommy Kearns, a 5-foot, 11-inch "runt" by basketball standards is the new "big man" for North Carolina's national champions.

A back-court sparkplug who starred in several key victories but averaged a modest 12.2 points a game last season, the stocky junior from Bergenfield, N. J., has developed into the Tar Heels' leading scorer. Kearns paced the team for the second straight game Tuesday night when he tallied 22 points in an easy 86-59 triumph over George Washington at Washington, D. C.

Tommy, North Carolina's No. 1 All-American candidate, now has scored 54 points in two games for a 27-point average. That's only a shade under the Tar Heel record of 27.9 per game set by the graduated Len Rosenbluth during the all-winning 1956-57 campaign.

North Carolina's 34th straight victory was never in doubt after the early minutes as the hard-driving Kearns kept the pressure on the Colonials, who appeared to suffer a severe case of stage fright. Pete Brennan, a 6-6 senior and Lee Shaffer, a 6-7 sophomore, weighed in with 20 points each as the Tar Heels wound up with a 46 per cent shooting average from the floor.

Clemson, routed by North Carolina, 79-55, last Saturday rebounded to score a 63-59 triumph Tuesday night and hand North Carolina State its first defeat after three wins. Bowling Green beat DePaul, 82-69, Loyola of Chicago defeated South Dakota State, 85-54, an Richmond beat Washington and Lee, 73-65, to gain a three-way tie for first place in the Southern Conference, in the other top games on a light card.

Other scores included: Air Force Academy 76 Kansas City (Mo.) 66, Penn State 47 Carnegie Tech 35, Brown 62 Rhode Island 58, Fordham 81 Yale 80, and Loyola of the South 76 Miami (Fla.) 62.

Meet The Breds

Dale Alexander

Dale Alexander, 6-0, guard; junior-Murray. The height of Dale's '56-'57 season was his play against Western when he played 40 minutes and held Owen Lawson to 11 points. After this game he came down with a severe cold and missed the remainder of the season. Dale is potentially a fine all-around basketball player, but as yet he has not reached the point where he can assume the responsibility demanded by the guard position. His hard work and good attitude indicates that he will reach this point, and his coaches have high hopes that it will be during this season.

Murray Bows To Hoptown In First Loss

By TED SYKES

The Murray High Tigers bowed to Hopkinsville last night, 25-46. This was Murray's first loss and also their first game away.

Hopkinsville opened the game with a lay-up by Atkins which was matched by Jerry Rose. Dan Pugh stepped to the foul line to put Murray ahead by a slim one-point margin. The accuracy of Hopkinsville's Atkins and Holt proved fatal as they continued to click for their team. Murray fell behind their advancing opponents as the period ended, 23-13.

The second quarter saw an increase in the pace as both teams broke loose on continued fast breaks. Roberts and Hurt elicited for Murray but it was not enough as they fell further behind. Murray's desperate attempts to score were quickly matched by Hopkinsville and the half ended, 43-24.

The third period found each team battling to enter the scoring column. Murray's small team could not compete with the height of Hopkinsville as they again trailed at the end of the stanza, 60-34.

Host Hopkinsville increased their margin in the final canto as they swept to victory, 85-46.

Tide Rolls Over Breds On Tuesday

The Crimson Tide of Alabama slipped past the Murray State Racers, 68-61, Monday night in Tuscaloosa to hand the visiting thoroughbreds their second loss on their Southern Road trip.

Murray stubbornly clung close behind throughout the contest but could not over take their host. Both teams played a very tight defense during the contest and neither squad was able to break through their opponent's defense line.

Terry Darnell led the Kentuckians with 13 points and nine rebounds. However, in Fulmer, Alabama's 6-6 center, and Jack Kubitsyn paced the victor's attack and won scoring honors with 19 points each. Alper Teter made his first start for the Murray squad chalked up 12 points.

Both teams made about the same recordings in the shooting and rebounding columns. Murray hit 25 of 72 field goals for 34.3 per cent compared to 26 of 73 for Alabama for an even 35 per cent. Alabama snatched 37 rebounds and Murray grabbed 37.

The Crimson Tide led the Racers seven points at halftime, 37-30, and maintained as much as a five-point lead throughout the second-half as they held on to win by seven.

Returning Murray State will be host to Eastern Thursday night in their first Ohio Valley Conference clash.

Whatever Happened To LONG JOHN WOODRUFF

by United Press
John Woodruff had little if any running style but who cared? While just a freshman at University of Pittsburgh, Long John won the Olympic 800-meter championship at Berlin in 1936. In his three varsity seasons as Pitt he won the NCAA half-mile crowns three straight years virtually unbeatable in his favorite distance in any sort of competition.

Whatever happened to John Woodruff today, 39, he is a lieutenant colonel in the U. S. Army serving as professor of military science and tactics at West Virginia State College.

Is Kentucky Really Good As They Seem

By FRED DOWN

United Press Sports Writer

Is Maryland really that good or is Kentucky in for an "off year?" That's the big question in college basketball today after the unranked Terrapins whipped the third-ranked Kentucky, 71-62, in the biggest upset of the season so far. It was the third straight victory for Maryland and the first loss for Kentucky since three wins in tight games.

Cosch Bud Millikan said before the season he believed he could hit the "big time" if Al Bunge, a rugged 6-foot, 8-inch sophomore, came through. So it was no coincidence that big Bunge scored 16 points and won the battle of the backboards with Kentucky's John Cox Monday night to prove a key man in Maryland's triumph.

Kansas Downs Marquette, Kansas, the nation's No. 2 team behind North Carolina, defeated Marquette, 82-62, fourth-ranked Bradley crushed Arizona, 91-52. And seventh-ranked Kansas State downed Purdue, 79-73, but Cincinnati upset, eighth-ranked Temple, 80-57, in other games involving top-rated teams.

With Chamberlain, Kansas' seven-foot star, poured in 15 field goals and 10 free throws to set a Milwaukee arena scoring mark of 40 points and pace the Jayhawks to their fourth straight triumph.

Barney Cable of Bradley scored 16 points as the Braves breezed their second straight victory. Kansas State won its "third in a row" after the lead changed hands no less than 15 times.

Temple Losses Second Game
Sophomore forward Oscar Robertson connected on 16 of 21 field-goal attempts and added four free throws for 36 points as Cincinnati handed Temple its second straight defeat.

No. 20 made American League history. That's the one that licked Boston in the first playoff in the league's history but Gene wasn't through yet. He won a World Series game against the Braves and, in relief, saved the last game that made the Indians champions of the world.

For the next five years, it was all down hill for handsome Gene as he tried, but failed, to make a comeback with Washington, Detroit, St. Louis Browns and finally the White Sox.

Whatever happened to Gene Boudry? Today he is sales manager for the Washington Contact Service at Memphis, Tenn., an organization that specializes in collecting unpaid bills.

Basilio And Dempsey Are Voted Boxing High Awards

By JACK CUDDY

United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — Carmen Basilio and Jack Dempsey have been unanimously voted boxing's highest awards for 1957.

The Boxing Writers' Association announced today that middleweight champion Basilio is "Fighter of the Year" for an unprecedented second time, and that ex-heavyweight ruler Dempsey gets the award for "long and meritorious service" to the sport.

Their plaques will be presented at the writers' annual dinner at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, Jan. 14.

The Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque for the person who has contributed most to boxing during the year, but which has become the "Fighter of the Year" award, was voted to 30-year-old Basilio at Tuesday's annual meeting of the writers. He had also won that honor in 1955. No one else ever took it twice.

Dempsey, now 62, won the Neil plaque in 1938 for his contributions to the sport's welfare that year; and when he was voted the James J. Walker award Tuesday for long and meritorious service, he was the second ever to win both trophies.

Only the late James J. Walker, himself, had won the two plaques. Walker, former mayor of New York, was father of the state's modern boxing law and an enthusiastic battler for the sport.

Basilio of Chittenango, N.Y., was named fighter of the year Tuesday because of his defense of the welterweight (147-pound) title on a second-round knockout over Johnny Saxton, Feb. 22, and his capture of the middleweight (160-pound) crown from Sugar Ray Robinson on a 15-round decision in their thrilling fight at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 23.

Carmen relinquished the welter title automatically when he won the middleweight championship.

Dempsey was voted the Walker award because of his long and persistent campaign against evils in the fight game, because of his encouragement to young fighters and because of his assistance in the drive against juvenile delinquency.

49'ers To Win Title In The West

NEW YORK — If the odds-makers are right, the San Francisco 49ers will win the National Football League's Western Division title Sunday and meet the Cleveland Browns for the championship Dec. 29.

The 49ers, Detroit Lions and Baltimore Colts are tied for first with only one game to play. Of the three leaders, only the 49ers are favored Sunday.

San Francisco entertains the crippled Green Bay Packers and is a 14½ point choice to win before a capacity crowd of nearly 60,000.

Detroit plays the Bears at Chicago and is a 2½ point underdog. Bobby Layne, Detroit's veteran quarterback, suffered a broken ankle bone in last Sunday's game with Cleveland and won't play.

Baltimore is a four-point underdog against the Rams at Los Angeles. The Colts have won only one of 11 games they have played on the West Coast.

The Browns, who won the Eastern title last Saturday when the Pittsburgh Steelers upset the New York Giants, are four-point underdogs against the Giants at Yankee Stadium.

The Eagles are one-point choices to beat the Chicago Cardinals in a Saturday afternoon game at Philadelphia.

In the other Sunday game, the Redskins are favored over the Steelers by seven points at Washington.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Dec. 10 — She sews, she paints, she designs clothes, she makes slip-covers, refinishes furniture and makes bathrobes from towels.

She teaches creative art at a museum and is a substitute chemistry teacher.

Mrs. William Robinson, at 24, also finds time to rear her two-year-old daughter.

"The whole thing started when I was a home economics major at the University of Vermont," she explained. "I was so broke I decided to make gifts for the men in my family. I knitted socks first, then painted ties and before I knew it, my roomed into all sorts of things."

After her marriage Mrs. Robinson "wasn't so broke," but she continued her tricks to "keep me occupied and bring in some extra pin money."

"I love to paint animals," she said, "and my husband is my severest critic. I can't even make a tiny mistake with Bill. He's a rabid sportsman and closely inspects every detail in my work."

Ties And Plates
Her hand-painted ties recently were shown at an exhibition in Rockefeller Center, in New York, and brought her mail from all over the country.

But her favorite works are plates decorated with children's nursery rhyme figures. On plain white plates, she paints such favorites as "Little Tommy Tucker," "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe," and "Peter, Peter, Pumpkin Eater."

"After I paint the figures I put the plate in the oven to bake. This way the color doesn't come off. I have many requests for a child's name and birthday to be inscribed on plates."

When it comes to terry-cloth towels, Mrs. Robinson has a particular talent.

"They come in such interesting designs these days that I hate to waste them in the bathroom. So when I need a gift I experiment a little and come up with a bathrobe."

Mrs. Robinson's Forum suggests storing a bouffant petticoat (after laundering) in an old nylon stocking. It will take up less room in the closet.

HIT BRITISH INACTION
LONDON — Lord Beaverbrook's Sunday Express recommended Sunday that Britons launch their own satellite instead of criticizing the U.S. failure. "Do not waste your sympathy on the Americans," the Express said. "Their disappointment is only temporary. Reflect, instead on Britain's position in the space race... Britain has no position at all. We are not even in the race."

Old Liberty Ships Remodeled

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. — A ship building firm here has stripped down an old Liberty ship, souped up her motor, and tossed her in the harbor at more than 18 miles an hour.

They call the SS John Sergeant the "floating hot rod." The Sergeant, a World War II ship with special gas turbine propulsion installed, is passing other Liberty ships plodding along at the usual 10 miles an hour.

The Federal Maritime Administration is keeping close tabs on the souped-up Sergeant and three other ships which have undergone similar conversions.

Their performances in commercial service will be exhibit A when the FMA decides whether or to provide greater speed for the approximately 1,800 Liberty ships in the National Defense Reserve Fleet. The FMA believes additional speed is necessary to reduce vulnerability of the cargo.
